QUARTERS DETECTIVES For False Arrest of Herself and Her Husband, Former Dean of the Medical Faculty of University of Vermont

-Devery Apologized for Detectives. Mrs. Elizabeth V. Grinnell of Burlington, Vt.. who, with her husband, Dr. Ashbel P. Grinnell, the former dean of the medical faculty of the University of Vermont, was arrested here on March 22, 1901, charged with swindling Edward Weston of Newark, has brought suit against Weston and Detectives Thomas Barker, Bernard McConwille and John Knox, for $50,000 for false imprisonment. Supreme Court Justice Dickey yesterday granted a motion to serve mons and complaint by publication on Weston, as he is not a resident of this State. In her complaint Mrs. Grinnell says that she and her husband were at the Grand Central Railroad station in Manhattan, about to take the train for Burlington, Vt., when the defendants unlawfully and falsely when the defendants unlawfully and falsely charged her and her husband with being criminals and suspicious persons and swindlers and exposed them to public abuse,

The plaintiff also alleges that as a result of the public disgrace and humiliation ber health has broken down.

Weston is a manufacturer of electrical instruments in Newark. He was living at the Waldorf-Astoria and was swindled there by a man named Raynor. Weston mistook Dr. Grinnell for Raynor and in-sisted that Dr. Grinnell and his wife be covered his mistake and dropped the case.

The day after Dr. Grinnell and his wife were discharged, Deputy Commissioner Devery summoned Dr. Grinnell to Mulberry street and arrelagized for the relies berry street and apologized for the police. CHINA YIELDING?

Russia Said to Be Securing Her Manchurian Demands. One by One. Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN.

LONDON, May 20 .- A despatch to the Times from Pekin says that China is agreeing, one by one, to all the conditions defined in M. Plançon's despatch, which it pretended to refuse en bloc. China has already undertaken not to alienate any part of Manchuria, not to alter the present administration of Mongolia, not to open aty ports in Manchuria and not to employ foreigners in the administration of Manchuria.

Whether China consents or not, Russia is retaining the telegraph between Port Arthur and Mukden, while the customs revenues at Newchwang continue to be paid into the Russo-Chinese Bank, and China has agreed that Russia shall fully control the customs there, Russia thus securing absolute sanitary control of the

"Yet." exclaims the correspondent, "we are assured that Russia adheres to her engagements. Will Japan be as easily satisfied? When Manchuria is gone what security will there be for the position of the Japanese in Corea, military or political? Does any one yet know what secret agreements were signed by the King of Corea during the year he resided as a refugee at the Russian legation at Seoul?"

The correspondent, referring to the denial made to Mr. McCormick, the American Minister at St. Petersburg, that Russia had presented demands to China, says that subsequently M. Plancon himself handed to Mr. Conger, the American Minister at Pekin, an official copy of the demands in Russian, written in his own hand.

Interest now chiefly centres in the Yalu River, whither small bodies of Russians are constantly proceeding and considerable consignments of foodstuffs and ammunition are being sent. Trustworthy evidence confirms the report that numbers of Chinese, who are described as former brigands, are officered by Russians. They number at least 2.000.

Russians in small bodies are on both the Chinese and Corean banks of the Yalu River, and there is a constant movement of small detachments of Russians from Liauyang. where there are 3,000 Russians, to the Yalu River. These figures from an eyewitness, a foreign intelligence officer, do not betoken much sincerity in the Russian assurances that Manchuria will be evacuated.

ROSERERY ON FREE TRADE. Speaks Approvingly of Chamberlain's Plan to Abandon It.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN. LONDON, May 19.—In an address delivered before the Burnley Chamber of Commerce to-day ex-Prime Minister Lord Rosebery spoke approvingly of Colonial Secretary Chamberlain's tariff proposals, although he did not commit himself fully to their support. He said he did not regard free trade as part of the Sermon on the Mount, and did not believe that it was to be received as rigidly as a divinely appointed dispensation. While, as a convinced imperialist, he said ne would condemn no scheme for unity of he Empire without full examination and consideration, he pointed out many difficulties in the way of accepting Mr. Chamberlain's proposals. He believed it would be necessary n the event of the adoption of the scheme to have some form of direct representation of the colonies in Great Britain. In any case it was certain that any real change in the existing fiscal system must be pre ceded by a business conference between the best financial experts in Great Britain and the colonies to decide whether the scheme was practicable and advisable.

Mr. Chanterlain's tariff proposals, as set forth in his Birmingham speech, are being received w.th sympathetic interest by public men and the press in the British colonies, but t ere is little apparent prossect of this sympathy taking a practi al form. With the exception of Prime Minister Barton, the whole Federal Cabinet of Australia is indisposed to alter the existing tariff regulations, while the Cabinets of the individual colonies have no voice in tariff matters.

Some newspapers point out that it would be just as disastrous to have the Australian markets swamped with British as with foreign goods. The furthest that the protection section is prepared to go is to increase the duties on foreign goods, while maintaining the duties on British goods as they are at present.

The reception of the proposals in South Africa has been more favorable than in Australia, especially by the interests centring at Johannesburg, although the German section there does not favor them. Considerable indorsement of the scheme has been received from the Cape Colony, particularly from the Progressives, but the Government does not commit itself to any view. The Prime Minister of Natal fears that the scheme is impracticable under existing conditions.

BRIDGE WHIST LIMIT. London Clubs Forced to Put a Check on the Gambling.

Special Cable Despatch to TRE SUN LONDON, May 19 .- Several of the West End clubs have found it necessary to limit bridge gambling by restrictions similar to those cabled to THE SUN as having been adopted at the houses of society leaders. The newly formed Atlantic Club has decided that not more than £500 a week will be booked to a single member. Points will be limited to 2s. each, with a maximum of £10 on a game.

These sums considerably exceed those allowed by other clubs, but the Atlantic's nickname of the "Millionaires' Club" explains why high play is allowed there. The weekly limit at the St. James's Club has been fixed at £300 and at the Bachelors' Club at £200, while the points of the game are limited to one shilling at each club.

No money changes hands during the games at these clubs. Each employs a card-room cashier to keep accounts. If a loser does not pay his account by an appointed date he ceases to be a member.

A development of the game is that interested persons sit behind a known skilful player and back his skill. A secretary of one of the clubs says that when a member is known to be an exceptionally go but is not rich or not rash enough to play heavy points, other members will carry him, that is, pay his points and draw a percentage of his winnings. Many a clever fellow is making £1,000 a year in this manner without running any risk.

It contains a portrait of President Roosevelt, presented by himself, for which the Prince of Wales asked Ambassador Choate, who took part in the opening ceremonies, to convey his thanks to the President. The room is well furnished. The dining hall crockery is stamped with combined British and American flags.

Viewing with concern the spread of negro disfranchisement, the disregard and nullification of the Constitution of the United States by State Constitutional enactments, illevally depriving American-born clitzens of the United States in the Alabama suffrage case; the inauguration in the South of a system of "taxation without representation, and the denial of equal public school facilities, we, the undersigned, by authority of the resolutions passed at the Cooper Union mass meeting on Feb. 19, at the Brooklyn Academy of Music mass meeting on April 3, and at the New Jersey State Convention held in Newark on April 15, do hereby issue this call for the following purposes: First, to elect delegates to the National Negro Suffrage Convention, to be held July 1, at Louisville, Ky.

CANADA NOT PRO-AMERICAN. The Hon, Clifford Sifton Answers Carnegie's Argument in London.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN LONDON. May 19 - The Hon. Clifford Sifton, Canadian Minister of the Interior, speaking a a banquet here to-night, reerred to Mr. Carnegie's recent statement that there was no future for Canada except as part of the United States.

Mr. Sifton said they had been told that a great many times. It was doubtless very distressing, but there was one conso ation. They were all going to destruction together. Canada had been fighting against geography for fifty years and pretty successfully. It was true that their progress had not been phenomenal, but a few hundred thousand people going into the woods could not accomplish wonders in a short Immediate proximity to the United States had mutilated Canada's rapid progress in many ways.

They had received one lesson against making themselves too dependent upon their neighbor, and profiting by it they had during the last ten years so completely freed themselves of dependence upon the American market that now there is no apprehension for the future.

It had been suggested that the influx of American farmers into the Northwest territory was likely to Americanize that region, but, Mr. Sifton said, if there is any part of the empire unlikely to be Americanzed it is Canada, where there is less pro-American feeling than in London.

LOTTERY SCHEME IN CUBA. the Bill if It Is Passed.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN HAVANA, May 19 .- According to the Discusion, President Palma will veto the lottery bill if Congress passes it. The Senate's approval of a lottery plan is the basis of discussion. The idea of establishing a lottery seems to be very popular.

It is also said that Señor Palma has decided not to interfere in the pending appointments of three Bishops to the newly established dioceses in Cuba. It is said that considerable feeling exists regarding the various candidates.

President Palma has received from the Sons of the American Revolution a picture commemorating the first anniversary of the establishment of the Cuban Republic. The dedication accompanying the picture is written in English and Spanish. It says that the descendants of the founders of the first American republic welcome the latest republic to enter the brotherhood of free peoples. Preparations are being made for the celebration to-morrow of Independence Day.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN.
PEKIN, May 19.—Chang Chih Tung Viceroy of Wuchang, has received his long-expected audience with the Empress Dowager at the summer palace. Her Majesty has conferred on him the right to ride on horseback in the Forbidden City. His arrival in Pekin has aroused the jealous opposition of both Chinese and Manchu igh officials, who fear that the Empress Dowager will appoint him a member of the Grand Council, which, it is reported, Prince Ching, president of the Grand Council recommends, as he needs an able assistant.

A strong foreign influence is also being exerted against the removal of Chang Chih Tung from Wuchang, where he is encouraging the development of the Yangtee Valley, and where his knowledge of foreign affairs is extremely useful.

COPS IN BELTED BLOUSES. Piper Idea, They Say, and Wonder What

Ebstein Will Bring From Germany. An order of Police Commissioner Greene which went into effect at 7 o'clock last evening directs every officer to wear his blouse. This was just what the patrolmen were anxious for. But the order was handicapped. The officers were instructed that they must wear their belts with the blouse at night and that their clubs must be in the sockets of the belts. The result was that the loose fitting blouse is drawn in by the tight belt. The cops say it looks bad and is uncomfortable. They also say that the idea was imported from London by Capt. Piper.

Pedestrians in many instances stopped the patrolmen and asked them what made them look so funny.

"Why not go on the other side?" he was asked

"I'm ashamed to be seen with this new-"I'm ashamed to be seen with this new-fashioned uniform," he replied, "and keep in the dark as much as possible."

A sergeant of police in discussing the change in uniform said that it was a shame to send men out on the street with such looking costumes. "A blouse is loosefitting and meant especially for hot weather. Now the men are compelled to wear their tight belts over the blouse, which draws them in such a way that it is impossible for a policeman to look neat.

RELIANCE GOES OUT SAILING.

FOOTS FAST IN A VERY LIGHT AIR ON THE SOUND.

Launched Early in the Morning and Towed to New Rochelle—Crew Bends on the Mainsail—Columbia Towed From Brooklyn to Glen Cove for the Race.

The Reliance was lowered into the water at about sunrise yesterday morning from Jacobs's yard, at City Island. Her underbody was beautifully clean, and her topsides spotess in their new coat of white paint. As soon as the yacht was in deep water the topmast was set on end, and then she was towed by the Sunbeam to her moorings, off Premium Point, New Rochelle. As soon as she reached her moorings the new mainsail he used in her trial last week off Bristol was bent on, and when this work had been finished the sail was hoisted, the head sails were sent up in stope, and then there was a ong wait for a breeze.

Mr. Iselin was anxious to try the boat, but the weather prospects were not at all good. At 11 o'clock Mr. Iselin decided to start, although the wind was very light. It was coming from the southwest. A big club topsail was sent aloft and the yacht stood over toward Matinicock Point on the starboard tack. In spite of the lightness of the air the new yacht footed fast and was soon lost to sight of those on shore in the haze that hung over the Sound. The yacht was tried on all points of sailing and when later in the day the wind freshened she gave a good indication of what she will do when she gets the wind she likes. The crew was drilled thoroughly with the sails.

The spinnaker was set and taken in again, headsails were changed and at 4 o'clock the yacht returned to her moorings.

The Columbia, which had been hauled out at the Morse Iron Works in South Brook-lyn, was launched early in the morning. She was towed back to Glen Cove by her tender, the Park City, and then her top-mast was set on end and her mainsail bent on. The Columbia has headsails made by Ratsey, which will be used in the race to-morrow.

The Reliance while at City Island got some new headsails from Ratsey's lofts. These sails will be tried before they are used in a race. A mainsail is being made to complete the suit. If these sails fit better than those made by Herreshoff they will be used by the yacht in her races, but if the Herreshoff sails are better, then the Ratsey sails will be discarded. The Ratsey sails are of English duck made of Egyptian cotton.

The regatta committee, ex-Commodore S. Nicholson Kane, Newbury D. Lawton and Edward H. Wales, will be guests on R. A. C. Smith's new steam yacht Privateer in the race to market. n the race to-morrow.

NEWS OF THE HARNESS HORSES. Good Sport on Matinee Day at Empire City Park.

Empire C'ty Park wore a gala day appearnce yesterday and a stranger might easily have guessed it was a matinée day. On the clubhouse piazza watching the sport and at times getting up for a spin were James Butler, president of the club; Charles C. Lloyd, Senator Horace White, M. C. Harrison, Claus Bohling, R. C. Wheeler, Harry Dyckman, Peter McDonnell, M. Bruikheimer, George A. Coleman, Mr. Morrison, Mr. Macintosh, Mr. Floyd-Jones and several other members. A large crowd of trainers and visitors stood at the wire catching the time and the scene throughout was spirited.

The only one of the lot yet favorably known in the East is Monte Carlo, 2.09%, but the pacer Mush has become known through his marvellous flights of speed over the track at Pleasanton. When E. E. Smathers was in California in March he saw Mush pace a quarter mile over the track in 29 seconds. R. C. ("Spike") Sage also arrived at the track with Thomas J. Sharkey's black pacer, Dewey H., 2:14½, and the promising State trotter Mike R., 2:20¼. The pacing mare, Lt. Holcombe. U. S. M. C. 56 55 194 274

The All-American team will not be selected by the committee solely on the scores made during the present contests. The committee will consider, together with the scores, past records and experience. It is also well known in the camp that a number of the crack shots would be unable to accompany the team abroad, ever though they were selected. In all probability the official selections will not be announced to-morrow night until 9:30.

It is expected that the Assistant Secretary of War will be here to-morrow to witness the final contest and will also join with the committee in the selection of the team. Col. Dimmick of North Carolina, official recorder of the shoot, banqueted the range officers in the clubhouse last night.

Subscriptions to the fund to send the team abroad can be malled to Leelle C. Bruce, treasurer of the National Riffe Association, 1134 Madison avenue, New York, It is important that additional funds be subscribed. Wanda, 2:12%, later in the week. Senator White and Edward Underhill divide the honors of the fastest mile driven over the track this season. The Senator worked Miss Whitney, 2:071/2, four easy miles, finishing each at a sharp clip with the last quarter in from 34 to 35 seconds. Mr. Underquarter in from 34 to 35 seconds. Mr. Underhill had given the bay mare Hinderina, 2:20%, some nice warming miles and to make up a field, his trainer. Fred Dumont started the pacer Tom Wilkes and Jerome Whelpley started the pacer Giles Noyes, 2:05%.

Miss Whitney was a little fussy in scoring, but when the start was made Hinderina was at the pole and Miss Whitney in third place. The first half mile was covered in 1:11, and then Miss Whitney, who was last, began to move for the front and she soon passed both pacers. When she headed Hinderina in the homestretch the two trotters came to the wire at a merry clip, trotting the last half in 1:08 and the last quarter in 33 seconds. The mile was 2:19, the first time that 2:20 has been beaten this year.

Harry Dyckman, who looks after the training of his horses, brought out a very promising candidate for stake honors in the young trotter Boreazelle, by Boreal, 2:15%. After a nice workout in 2:34%, with the last quarter in 33% seconds, Beldia, 2:00%, with Theodore Maxfield up: Equity, 2:12%, with A. E. Perren's trainer up, and Boreazelle, with the owner up, were worked a slow mile together, with the last quarter at speed. The last eighth was trotted in 16% seconds, a 2:12 gait, and Boreazelle had a triffe the best of it at the wire.

James Butler gave the black trotter Direct View, 2:16%, a nice warming mile and then sent him one faster in company with the black trotter Marmore, 2:29%, by Baronmore, driven by Fred Dumont. The last quarter was trotted in 34 seconds and Direct View had his head in front.

W. J. Andrews was up in turn behind several of the stars of his stable. He drove the black trotter Promise, 2:12%, a mile in company with the pacer Sloppy Weather, 2:14%, driven by Clarence Ware, a mile in 2:26, with the last quarter in 34 seconds.

C. Schuyler's bay mare Mona Wilkes and drove her an easy repeat mile with the last quarter in 34 seconds.

Charles C. Lloyd drove the black trotter Malzour, 2:16%, a slow mile and repeat, the last in 2:31, with the last half in some nice warming miles and to make up a Meadow Brook Wins in Fast Game From Westchester.

Meadow Brook won the second polo game grounds, for the Westchester Country Club grounds, for the the first Country Club team by 24% goals to 15%. The Westchester team had to allow 15 goals' handicap to the Meadow Brooks. Westchester's only chance to win was in fast scoring game, and the splendid work of the Waterbury brothers in the first period, aided by Collier's accurate goal hitting, gave aided by Collier's accurate goal hitting, gave evidence that the excessive handicap allowance might be picked up. Ten goals were made in this period, and seven went to the home players, the majority being made in less than a minute each.

Westchester's fast game was blocked for the remainder of the match. Harry Payne Whitney, who went on the Meadow Brook team, did some of the finest playing of the day, and his defensive work proved a strong barrier to Westchester, Whitney was well assisted by Brooks and Alexander, and they outplayed Westchester in the third period, getting three of four goals. The Waterbury brothers did the chief work for Westchester, but of the 16 goals the team earned, Collier made 7. The teams were: Westchester-i, R. J. Collier, 4: 2, J. E. Johnson, 9: 5, J. M. It was one of the fastest contests held in this city for a long time, the boxers working hard every minute they were in the ring. Canole won by jabbing, and kept his left glove in O'Keefe's face continually. O'Keefe, too, showed to advantage in several rounds, notably the tenth, eleventh and twelfth. In the fourth round Canole landed a fusiliade of left jabs and swings, and O'Keefe was much distressed when the bell sounded. Early in the fifth the Chicago man landed a hard right cross and put Canole down. By clever stalling the latter held on and toward the end of the round came back with a rush and evened matters.

The fifteenth round was a bad one for O'Keefe, and Canole won decisively. The decision of the referee was a popular one.
